MEN'S BASKETBALL

Earn a Degree

The student-athletes in our basketball program are held accountable to their studies in the classroom. We are committed to fostering a structured environment to help you learn and grow as a student and graduate with a college degree. Team study tables, student planners, and math and writing center appointments will keep you accountable in the classroom and help put you on a path toward earning your degree.

Player Development

When you become a collegiate basketball player at Mayville State University you are making a commitment to become the best basketball player you can be. Our coaching staff is passionate about individual skill development as a part of our team goals. Through fundamental skill development workouts, strength training and conditioning, mental training, and with hard work and repetition we are dedicated to providing you with the opportunity to become the best player you can be.

A Winning Tradition

In the last 34 years the Mayville State University men's basketball program has earned 22 banners commemorating regular season conference championships, conference tournament championships, and national tournament appearances. Since 1980, the men's basketball program has won 11 conference championships, five conference tournament championships, and made the national tournament six times. In six NAIA national tournament appearances, the Comets have been to the Elite 8 three times, the Final Four one time, and advanced all the way to the national championship game in 2007.

The Experience

You will look back on your college days at Mayville State as some of the best years of your life. We emphasize having a team-first attitude and relationship approach in all that we do. When players and coaches buy in to this way of thinking, the result is the forging of deep relationships and life-long friendships with teammates and coaches. As part of the Mayville State University men's basketball program, you will be surrounded by great people on a daily basis and the experiences you have will positively impact your life.
