The important benefit of online learning is that it can span time and distance. You don't have to be in the same place as your instructor to obtain course-related information. With Blackboard Learn, you have access to your course content from anywhere, at any time. You can also interact with your classmates and instructors.

Student Success Advice

Mayville State University wants you to succeed. These suggestions were made by previous students who were successful in obtaining their degree.

Budget Time

You must learn to plan your study time properly. This does NOT mean you start to study for a test the night before it is given or start writing that report the day before it is due [otherwise known as the redeye special]. The over-used statement “I work best under pressure” is a silly excuse for those who really have no choice. Just remember, you lack of foresight is not going to be your advisor or professor’s emergency.

Being a Student is a Full Time Job

You cannot work hard one day a week and hope your grades will be acceptable. Look upon college as a full-time job.

There is Nothing Wrong with Being Initially Confused

Some students get upset when they realize they have not mastered all the facets of being a distance student during their first term. Bear in mind that college is a way of life. You will be learning to cope with it every day, and that is as it should be. If you are worried about your initial confusion, you are normal.

Know the University’s Academic Rules

Even if you do not memorize them, have a copy of the MSU Student Catalog or departments ready. Ignorance of what is required is no excuse for failing to perform. Confusion is one thing, but ignorance of rules speaks volumes about a person. Do not become one of those who frequently states, “But nobody told me...”

Accept Constructive Criticism

When a professor critiques your work, he or she is doing you a favor. Such a criticism is not meant to be personal. No matter how competent you may be, all work can be improved upon. Your professor took a lot of time to show you how to improve. How would you feel if a professor did not read the paper or test and simply assigned a grade? If you feel free to criticize some of your professors [and you will], be prepared to understand and accept academic criticism.

Develop an Appreciation for the Mastery of Language

No matter what your major or program of interest, the single most important skill of life success is communication. It is how you communicate that demonstrates the depth of your education, especially in distance education classes.

Get to Know Some Professors Before You Graduate

This is sometimes hard for first-year students, but at least target some faculty you think may be worth knowing before you graduate from MSU. Your professors are the individuals who will evaluate your work, supply references for a future career post or for graduate school and guide your intellectual development. You may find they are invaluable as mentors during the rough periods of your academic life. Do not let a title of Doctor or Professor frighten you; these titles simply recognize their achievement. The vast majority are quite approachable. Their expertise will help you reach the goals or achievements you have set for yourself.

Learn to Communicate in the Online Classroom

There are no dumb questions concerning subject matter. If you do not know or do not understand something, chances are that several of your peers do not either. Learning to ask questions is a real skill, and you need to develop it.

Be Patient with Yourself

You will make errors or evident mistakes during your college career. Please be assured that you are not DOOMED. These times are when your advisor or counselor becomes very important.

Know Your Academic Situation Prior to Withdrawal Period

If you have a question or concern about how you are doing in class, contact the professor and discuss it. If you wait until after midterms or until the last minute to “see how things are going” and then experience failure, playing academic catch-up can be a no-win situation. Keep yourself informed. If you are not doing well academically, get help.

Safeguard Your Physical and Mental Well-Being

When exhausted, rest. Eat proper food and know when to relax. No one is going to thank you for working yourself to frazzle or getting ill by ignoring your body and mind’s basic needs.

Locate and Use University Services

The University wants you to succeed and will help you by means of its available services. These range from the Learning Support Services to personal counseling; let the University serve you.

View My Degree Progress

The Academic Advisement Report (ARR) is a tool available to all MSU students and advisors. The ARR allows students and advisors to see degree progress at any time during the student’s academic career. This tool enables both students and advisors to plan schedules, access summaries of degree requirements that have been completed and requirements still needed to graduate. Information on how to access and use the ARR can be found here: <https://mayvillestate.edu/msu-online/distance-student-services/>.
