The Program
Real world experience is the key when learning how to best work with young children. Mayville State University’s early childhood program provides hands-on experience in our Child Development Center and prepares you to make an impact on the lives of young children. The early childhood Associate program is also offered as an online program option.

MSU’s early childhood program will give you the opportunity to further your professional growth. Courses completed in the A.A. program can be applied directly to bachelor’s programs in early childhood, and the program takes full advantage of distance learning opportunities to provide flexibility.
