

Civil Disturbances/Protests

The university supports the rights of persons to self-expression provided they do not disrupt normal university activities or do not in-fringe upon the rights of others.

If protests disrupt normal university activities, result in damage to university buildings or grounds, or threaten the safety of others:

- Remain calm.
- Notify University officials at EXT 34754 so they can alert all persons in the area.
- Avoid obstructing or provoking protestors.
- If prudent, lock doors and windows and close blinds to prevent flying glass. If necessary to evacuate, follow the directions of university officials and responding emergency personnel.
- If evacuated, meet at a designated location provided to you by officials and wait for additional instructions and information.