Fall 2023 - Spring 2024 Dual Credit Opportunity

Introduction to Education - EDUC 250 (Fall 2023 and Spring 2024)

Foundations of Special Education - SPED 289 (Fall 2023 and Spring 2024)

Foundations of Special Education Field Experience - SPED 289A (Spring 2024)

Classes are free for qualified students.

Who is qualified to enroll?

- North Dakota High School Junior or Senior Student
- Student must have Cumulative GPA of 3.0

Why is it free?

The Department of Public Instruction (DPI) will pay for each student wanting to take EDUC 250, SPED 289, and/or SPED 289A. The application fee, books, and dual credit tuition will be paid. The State of North Dakota has a teacher shortage, and these dual credit courses are designed to motivate juniors and seniors to special education and other teacher education fields.

Class Information:

- EDUC 250: Introduction to Education will be a 16-week, online asynchronous 3 credit course for Fall 2023 and Spring 2024 taught by Mayville State University faculty member, Jeni Peterson.
- SPED 289: Foundations of Special Education will be a 16-week, online asynchronous 3 credit course for Fall 2023 and Spring 2024 taught by Mayville State University faculty member, Dr. Carly Theis.
- SPED 289A: Foundations of Special Education Field Experience will be a 2 credit course, with a required 60 hour field experience, for Spring 2024 taught by Mayville State University faculty member, Dr. Carly Theis. This course is available to students who took SPED 289 in Fall 2023 or students who are currently enrolled in SPED 289 in Spring 2024.
